National University, 2021. – 110 p.

ISBN 978-966-285-630-9

The proposed concise dictionary is intended for foreign students of the Medical Schools, who are studying the Latin language and the basis of the Medical Terminology.

The most used anatomical terms and clinical term elements are represented in this dictionary. The translation of the terms is given in English, Arabic, Russian and Ukrainian, which contributes to a better understanding of the Latin language by foreign students.

The dictionary is intended for use within the classroom work and for the self working practice of students within the extraclassroom work.
